Mentoring Program

The Wayne State University School of Social Work Alumni Board is launching a student and alumni mentoring program for bachelor's and master's level students. This program is designed to enhance student performance, success and achievement post-graduation.

Wayne State University
Social Work Mentoring Program

Who is invited?

All Wayne State University bachelor's and master's level students are invited to participate in the Mentoring Program. The program will be offered to eligible students that meet criteria. Eligibility will be based on the completed application and the student's demonstrated commitment to his/her professional & social knowledge and development.

When is Mentoring Offered?

Mentors are paired with students each semester based on the availability of alumni. The students are paired based on their interests and their career goals. Each student will meet with his/her mentor each quarter to discuss and learn more about opportunities in social work.

Proposed Learning Opportunities

- Career Building
- Networking
- Professional Development
- School of Social Work Engagement

Why Participate?

Have you been wondering the role of social workers after they graduated from Wayne State University? Social workers are in schools, hospitals, government relations, private practice, and many are entrepreneurs. Regardless of the industry you choose, more than likely, there is a social worker that has made a footprint and can assist in your career growth and development.

Mentoring Works!

Mentoring is an opportunity for current students enrolled in Wayne State University-School of Social Work programs to gain skills for success and achievement after graduation.

This mentoring program will connect our students with alumni, increase success, and build positive awareness of the contributions of the WSU School of Social Work and it's alumni.
