

ADVOCATING FOR EQUITY AND JUSTICE DOESN'T STOP FOR A PANDEMIC.

During the COVID-19 crisis and anytime, social work professionals continuously unite our community. And through the month of March, National Social Work Month, the Wayne State University School of Social Work and its Board of Visitors proudly pay tribute to our frontline social workers. These professionals have worked tirelessly throughout the pandemic, leading the fight for equity and striving for a community built on social change.

Sheryl Kubiak, Dean
Wayne State University
School of Social Work

Alice Thompson, Chair
Wayne State University
School of Social Work Board of Visitors

Shirley Gray, Vice Chair
Wayne State University
School of Social Work Board of Visitors

To our social work heroes, on behalf of the Wayne State School of Social Work and its Board of Visitors, thank you for a job well done — for your community and for the world.

WAYNE STATE UNIVERSITY

WARRIOR STRONG

socialwork.wayne.edu