

FALL 2020

CAMPAIGN SCHOOL ELECTION GUIDE

VOTING is Social Work

VOTER RESOURCES

Vote 411 is an online tool that gives to the election information that you need. Their website gives access to see who is on your ballot, find your polling location, check your voter registration, and discover debates in your area. For more information, visit <https://www.vote411.org/>.

The Michigan Voter Information Center provides you with a way to register to vote, check your polling location, accessible voting, what to expect when voting in person, accessible voting, and information on how to obtain and send your absentee ballot. For more information, visit <https://mVIC.sos.state.mi.us/>.

The Social Work in Focus Transition Team challenges social workers to get involved in the election. Social Work Votes is currently taking part in The Rolling Vote Initiative and the Election Day Mobilization Project. For more information on how to get involved, visit <https://socialwork.wayne.edu/swvotes>.

WSU MotiVote provides voter education resources and activities. For more information, visit <https://wayne.motivote.us/t/overview/>.

The Nancy A. Humphreys Institute increases political participation of social workers and their communities. The institute gets social workers involved in nonpartisan voter engagement, the Campaign School for Social Workers, and and research related to political participation and voting. For more information, visit <https://ssw.uconn.edu/politicalinstitute/>.

The American Civil Liberties Union is a nonprofit organization that takes up civil liberties issues in order to defend people from government abuse and overreach. To learn more, visit <https://www.aclu.org/> or <https://www.aclumich.org/>.
