

WAYNE STATE

School of Social Work

Continuing Education & Professional Development

Infant Mental Health: Attachment Theory, Part 1

Presented by Carolyn Dayton, PhD, LMSW, IMH-E®(IV)

- ⇒ Understand the importance of early relationships in the lives of infants, toddlers and young children.
- ⇒ Learn ways to assess the quality of the early parent-child or caregiver-child relationship.
- ⇒ Identify the ways in which early parenting influences the development of the infant, toddler and young child.

Watch the course videos and take the quiz from your computer, tablet or phone

$20 fee for 1 CE credit, which will be issued within 48-72 business days after successful completion of the online course test

Have questions? Visit us online at socialwork.wayne.edu/ce or email us at ce_ssw@wayne.edu

socialwork.wayne.edu/ce