WEBINAR: CONFLICT RESOLUTION STRATEGIES TO ENGAGE AUTISTIC INDIVIDUALS, PEOPLE WITH DEVELOPMENTAL DISABILITIES & CAREGIVERS

- WHEN: SEPTEMBER 22, 2021
- TIME: 9:00 AM – 3:00 PM (EDT / UTC-4)
- FORMAT: ONLINE

The Center for Peace and Conflict Studies and the Michigan Developmental Disabilities Institute at Wayne State University are presenting a day-long webinar on Conflict Resolution for People with Autism and Developmental Disabilities. This webinar will teach participants to better understand how having a disability may make it more difficult to communicate in potentially tense situations. There will be a panel of autistic young adults, discussing how they handle conflicts and interventions they use to diffuse difficult situations. We invite participants who are sixteen years of age and older.

For registration and Zoom information, please contact Andrea Ritter.
