Program Information

Gerontology Dual-title Ph.D. students will, like all other doctoral students, take courses in research methods, statistics, and social work theory. Students will complete nine credits of gerontology-focused courses as well as a gerontology-focused research practicum, and write both a substantive paper and doctoral dissertation with mentorship from gerontology faculty.

The annual application deadline is Dec. 18 for admission the following fall semester.

For further information on the Ph.D. in Social Work with a Dual-title in Gerontology, contact us at sswphd@wayne.edu or 313-577-4416. Visit us at socialwork.wayne.edu.

Announcing the Inception of a Dual-title Ph.D. in Social Work and Gerontology

Program Goals

- Address the critical need for social work faculty and researchers trained in geriatrics who can promote evidence-based practices and serve as role models for future generations of social workers specializing in the field
- Promote interdisciplinary collaboration as a key element of geriatric social work
- Provide comprehensive gerontological research, competencies and scholarly skills

School of Social Work
Challenging Minds, Leading Change, Transforming Lives